SR. DORA CHAN, LSP, WAS OUR SPEAKER FOR THE APRIL 1 MEETING

Our speaker for this meeting was Sr. Dora Chan, of the Little Sisters of the Poor. She joined us to recognize 2019 as the 150th anniversary of the Little Sisters first coming to Louisville. Accompanying her that day was Sr. Caroline Joan.

Sr. Dora was born and raised in Hong Kong. She entered the Little Sisters of the Poor in September of 1973, and attained a college degree. She made her final vows at the Mother house in France in September of 1981.

Sr. Dora is currently the collecting sister who goes out every day with another Little Sister to collect produce, money, material goods, etc. and to Churches on week-ends for monetary donations and volunof the Little Sisters of the Poor coming to Louisville.

St. Jeanne Jugan (1792-1879) was a French woman who became known for her ministry to the neediest of the elderly. Early in her life when she was approached about marriage, she told her suitor that she felt a call to dedicate her life to God. She studied to be a nurse and also taught Catechism. After getting very sick, and being nursed back to good health, she rented a flat in France and dedicated her life to prayer and the poor.

In the winter of 1839 Jeanne Jugan found an older woman who was paralyzed and blind, and out in the cold. She carried this woman on her back to her home. This was the beginning of her life-long mission – taking care of the elderly poor. One of the Brothers of St. John of God gave her a basket, which she used to start begging. The order eventually developed a great friendship with the order of St. John of God, as well as a special devotion to St. Joseph. The order became known as the Little Sisters of the Poor, and the name stuck.

They grew to need a larger building and even started a novitiate. One priest helped them spread the congregation and even helped them get to the Americas. Their first U.S. establishments were in Brooklyn, NY and New Orleans, LA.

When Sr. Jeanne Jugan died, she was buried in a crypt chapel in France.

In September of 1869, the order opened the Little Sisters of the Poor in Louisville. Bishop McCloskey (bishop from 1868 to 1909) rented to them a property on South Tenth Street for $1 per year. After 108 years in Louisville, they had to leave due to a deteriorating building and a reduction in vocations. In 1991 they came back to Louisville; and Archbishop Kelly (Archbishop from 1981 to 2007) arranged for them to use a plot of land off of Poplar Level Road, where they now operate the St. Joseph Home for the Aged.

One of their highlights of their ministry is sending a resident home to God. In a resident's final days, the order has someone at the dying person's side around the clock, until the very end so that the resident is not afraid of death.

The home has many activities for the residents – parties, exercise, a Valentine's Day dance, three retreats per year, a Turtle Derby, and much more.

To be a resident, a person must be at least age 65 and poor. The home has over 70 apartments including some for independent living, others for people needing some nursing help, and an infirmary that holds over 35. The home is almost always full.

The St. Joseph Home is staffed by the sisters, nurses, nurse aids, and volunteers. Doctors and therapists visit regularly and as needed.

To raise funds, the sisters not only beg from individuals, businesses and parishes; but they have a Turtle Derby, Golf Scramble, and Annual Festival and Chicken Dinner, as well as a special Gala this year for the 150th anniversary. Check out all the details at their website. They can always use volunteers, too.

The 150th anniversary exhibit is at the Patterson Center until October. The Center is open Sundays from 10:30 am until 2 pm. Group tours can be scheduled by calling the Cathedral parish office at (502) 582-2971.

There are some young people coming into the order. However, there is a shortage of sisters and the order has needed to close some homes across the country.

We want to thank Sr. Dora Chan, lsp, for taking time to be with us; and we congratulate the Little Sisters of the Poor on the 150th anniversary of their arrival in Louisville.

THE MISSION OF THE SERRA CLUB

Don't forget the objectives and purpose of our club are threefold:

- (1) to foster and promote vocations to the ministerial priesthood in the Catholic Church as a particular vocation to service, and to support priests in their sacred ministry;
- (2) to encourage and affirm vocations to consecrated religious life in the Catholic Church; and
- (3) to assist its members to recognize and respond in their own lives to God's call to holiness in Jesus Christ and through the Holy Spirit.

SR. SARAH YUNGWIRTH, OSB, SPOKE AT OUR APRIL 15 LUNCHEON

Sr. Sarah Yungwirth has been the Associate Director for Vocations for our Archdiocese since 2015. She joined us at this luncheon to give us an update from the Vocation Office.

Sr. Sarah grew up in Hagerstown, MD – one hour west of Baltimore. She went to Catholic grade school and high school, and graduated from the College of Notre Dame in Baltimore, with a degree in Elementary education in 1998. Then she joined the Sisters of St. Benedict in Ferdinand, IN.

After formation with the Benedictine order, she has had several ministries in the Louisville area. She taught at St. Raphael for 11 years, and was also their special needs coordinator. She later had similar roles at St. Patrick School. It was at this time that she earned a Master's degree in learning and behavior disorders from Spalding University.

Sr. Sarah's presentation included a long list of vocation-related activities from the last year, as well as events planned in the near future.

Last August there was a three-day provincial gathering of all the seminarians and vocation directors for the six dioceses in our province.

The "Called by Name" Campaign began last Fall, encouraging pastors, directors of religious education and others to turn in the names of people who might be good candidates for an invitation to small meetings discussing religious vocations. Several names were turned in; and the vocation office reached out to those individuals with meetings, information and resources.

The Archdiocese used to organize "St. Andrew Dinners" to which young men were invited to discuss the priesthood. They've changed the format and now call these "Vianney Gatherings" – to learn of the priesthood in small, informal settings with more one-on-one interaction. One gathering was in November and another was done around Mardi Gras.

The "Marian Dinners" are gatherings for young women to learn of the various women's orders in our Archdiocese. This included the Sisters of Mercy, the Ursulines of Mount St. Joseph, the Benedictines of Ferdinand, and others. The attendees gathered at the U of L Interfaith Center.

The Vocation Office also sponsors the Planting Seeds Committee – quarterly meetings of representatives from each of the men's and women's orders in our Archdiocese. The Serra Club also has a liaison on this committee – Ken Peet. This committee has organized a number of events, including visits to Bellarmine University and U of L (in conjunction with each campus's Sunday student Masses).

This year, the Vocation Office is also encouraging our Catholic high schools to allow the Vocation Office to make "Vocare Visits" to the schools. (Vocare is Latin for "to call.") These are gatherings that get into more depth than grade school discussions of vocation, and also include St. John Paul II's Theology of the Body as part of the curriculum.

The Vocation Essay and Poster Contests were well received this school year. There were a record 430 entries from grades four through eight! Sr. Sarah says that one of the favorite parts of her job is sitting down around Christmas time to review all the entries. To view the winning essays and posters, click here. One of the winners this year even came from a home schooled student.

We currently have 14 seminarians – seven at St. Meinrad, two at the Bishop Simon Brute College Seminary in Indianapolis, three at Mt. St. Mary's of the West in Cincinnati, one in the Theological College in DC, and one in a pastoral year at St. Peter the Apostle parish.

On Saturday, May 25 (11 am at the Cathedral), three men of our Archdiocese will be ordained to the priesthood – Deacons Tony Cecil, Steven Reeves, and Kirby Rust. And the night before, there will be a Holy Hour of Thanksgiving at 6 pm at Holy Family Church.

The Vocation Office also schedules a high school young men's trip to Bishop Simon Brute College Seminary in Indianapolis – two this year.

New this year are book marks for each of our 14 seminarians. The Serra Club still has a few sets to give out.

Sr. Sarah said the new seminarians for this Fall have not yet been finalized; but there will be more than two.

Trinity High School has a club for young men who want to learn more about living the Catholic life more authentically. Also, Trinity High School, as well as several of our grade schools, are using the Serra Club Traveling Chalice program for prayers for vocations.

Sr. Sarah said that some of the young men attending meetings of the Louisville Young Catholics are considering the seminary.

On Sunday, October 6, there will be a prayer service, recognition ceremony, and reception for servers. The Vocation Office has asked each parish to submit the names of two servers to be recognized at this event.

For the order priests and sisters in the last year, Sr. was aware of several people from our area being ordained or professing final vows - one sister took final vows with the Order of St. Benedictine; one priest was ordained for the Fathers of Mercy; and one priest was ordained for the Marian Priests of the Immaculate Conception.

Finally, it was announced that Fr. Anthony Chandler will be taking over as the new Director of Vocations in the next few months. He will be replacing Fr. Michael Wimsatt, who has been the Director since September 1, 2014.

We want to thank Sr. Sarah for all the great news coming out of our Vocation Office.

(Thanks to Jerry Zimmerer for the pictures with this article.)
